The artificial intelligence of the football players has been improved to a higher level with a new “AI MASTERCYCLE” feature, which allows more refined and realistic situations, including closer-range tackle situations. This makes players feel more human and make players feel closer to the pitch as they're instructed with greater importance to make high-risk, difficult tackles in those closer-range situations. “AI MASTERCYCLE” also allows the players to perform closer-range actions for higher intensity and more realistic situations, including tackling, intercepting and throwing the ball. A new “Short-Throw Miss” feature, which enables players to use the Dictate the Action feature to pass the ball to an open teammate, has been added. Match Day: Tactics – Managed Play Players can now spend more time working their tactics and managing their substitutions throughout a match. Utilizing live data from the World Cup and the UEFA Champions League, they can now instantly switch between the live match and their manager mode replays by using the new “Manager Mode Replay,” which allows players to select a team and see replays from any match during the campaign, creating a rich experience where they can use a mix of live match, manager mode and tactics replays. Players can switch from formations to formations during the match. Players can switch from tactics to tactics during the match. Players can manage squad budgets, training load and evolution algorithms. As a manager, players have a suite of options available to them that include working with tactical trainers, using the “Sports Analytics” feature to measure match performance and analyze the match, view reports and manage academy recruits and their options. Live Data – Game Night Improvements have been made to Live Data to make it a more immersive experience, in which players can use this new feature to review their key stats and performances from the match before and after.
